How To Get Real Prosperity In Your Life Part Two

I hear a lot of people say they want prosperity – and I hear a lot of people complain about their lives not being fulfilling enough because they don't have the money to do what they want? But what are they doing about it?

Last edition we looked at strategies that could manifest wealth, but not fulfillment – and we looked at the typical business world – which is to fight and scratch to earn your worth in the world, so that you will be deemed worthy to receive a pay check etcetera. We saw that this greedy business world was part of a matrix – and that the new system of total prosperity, was not part of that false competition. Knowing that this business world is a matrix – can provide a key point to your enlightenment, because nothing in the matrix is really real, but we have aspects of ourselves that still believe that the matrix is real.

When you realise the business world is a matrix you can live in an ascended state of consciousness. And when you are living in this enlightened state you can appear or disappear within the matrix (third dimension), whenever spirit guides you or your divine mission. The matrix does not negatively affect you and you do not encounter conflict, because within your consciousness, you are at peace. You then attract this reality - even though you are engaging with a world that is full of fear and can be quite dangerous. You are aware that the only time conflict ever arises in your reality is when some aspects of your soul's old pain or suffering is evoked while interacting within the matrix, and they believe that experience or that illusion to be real or something to fear. You have to heal that part - so that next time, you show up empowered and balanced, and don't get your butt kicked by the agents.

A wise man once told me there is two ways to win a battle. One is to be stronger, smarter or more powerful than your foe - and the other is to just not show up on the battlefield. So, the higher perspective on this is that there is no foe; there is no battle at all.

So with this said, and relating again to your strategies of how to create a divine reality of prosperity in your life, and on Earth – there might be much to do in the external world to create this reality – but there is just as much internal work to be done. Everything we create in the external world must be imagined (created) within the internal world; it must be energised with joy and love so that it will actually manifest in the physical. All reality in the world of the matrix exists because people imagine it every day – they agree upon it and are force fed it through the media, advertising and by our leaders. We then persecute people who believe otherwise. We have become our own punishers and we are our own wrathful gods, punishing us for our sins. We have become the inquisitors, the witch burning executioners. We have become the agents for the devil, to stop us from doing anything outside of the agreed upon reality.

But we light players do not live within the matrix. We only exist here physically, because we choose to be here.

We are the infiltrators to show others the way out of the matrix of conflict, competition, control and power. We offer liberation through the divine gifts and guidance that we contain with our hearts, minds and souls - the keys to ascension.

So how will you conduct business now? What will be your financial focus? What will be your focused intent? What do you desire to create in your life and on planet earth? What companies will you support? Are they truly ethical and truly focused upon success for not only the company supporters, but for all of humanity? Do their company practices really support the planet? Do they use toxins and pesticides to create their product? Are they Certified Organic?

What financial business strategies, will you be attracted to? Do they resonate with your inner divine truth? Does this business strategy have the ability and potential for everyone to become successful, and for other people's work to support you, and your work supports them?

This is why I am involved with Network Marketing, because it is one of the only business strategies that is truly prosperity oriented, where everyone has an equal chance at success, regardless of their position, and every one above and below me supports my efforts. Competition is an illusion when it comes to business, because there are billions of people on this planet, which means you have billions of opportunities for success, and the same goes for every single person. It's a small world now, and we have access to every single person on the planet, we are no longer limited by the amount of people in our vicinity. There are no longer any limits, only the limits we create for ourselves and the limits we still believe are real.

So I ask you again, how much do you want true prosperity? Are you willing to completely re-focus your life upon real and true prosperity? Are you willing to do whatever it takes to heal the parts of you that do not feel they deserve prosperity or believe that having wealth is somehow wrong or evil? Will you jump right in to the initiations and commit fully to the direction from your God presence and the divine plan of your life? Will you be able to sustain the energy needed to accomplish this divine task, or will you lose interest as the matrix creeps back into your life and sucks the life force from you?

Courage is being afraid, and doing it anyway.
